2.2 Reuse Project Description

The Town of Queen Creek plans to use its proportional share of the Class A+ reclaimed water generated by the Greenfield Water Reclamation Plant (GWRP) by partnering with the Roosevelt Water Conservation District (RWCD) canal system to deliver the reclaimed water to downstream customers. The GWRP is a wastewater treatment facility jointly owned by the City of Mesa, and the Towns of Gilbert and Queen Creek. The GWRP facility is located north of Queen Creek Road and west of Greenfield Road within the Town of Gilbert and is operated by the City of Mesa as lead agent for the facility. The GWRP is classified as producing Class A+ reclaimed water per Aquifer Protection Permit (APP) No. P-105443.

Reclaimed water from the GWRP will be delivered to a discharge facility located on Queen Creek Road at the RWCD canal which lies approximately one-third mile west of Higley Road. The reclaimed water will combine with the RWCD canal water and will be transported through the canal system (including laterals and the Eastern Extension Canal), and delivered to current (and future) RWCD customers located downstream of the discharge point. The potential RWCD distribution area that will be served by the co-mingled water is identified as land that is located south of Queen Creek Road, west of the RWCD Main Canal, east of the Eastern Canal, and north of Hunt Highway, and includes the area from RWCD's drain canal running from the tail-water ditch to the RWCD Eastern Extension Canal.

Initially, the Town of Queen Creek expects to deliver approximately two (2) to three (3) cubic feet per second (cfs) of reclaimed water daily into the canal system at the discharge point. In the future, this discharge rate is expected to increase to around 12 cfs. The flow volume in the canal upstream of the discharge point averages in the range of 75 to 100 cfs. The upper range of the percentage of reclaimed water to canal water is expected to be in the 15 to 20% range, but may on occasion be as much as 50% (subject to daily fluctuations).

The reuse area within the RWCD service area consists of approximately 8700 acres. At the time of permit issuance the end-uses include agricultural and landscape irrigation, and water features, but may include any of the allowable uses included in the Reclaimed Water Standards Rule for Class A, B, or C reclaimed water (see A.A.C. Title 18, Chapter 11, Article 3, Table A).
