OCTOBER 2008 IS...

CHILDREN'S ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH MONTH

Join the ADEQ Seminar

Office of Children's Environmental Health

ADEQ's Office of Children's Environmental Health and ADOT's Safe Route to School Programs would like to invite you to a 3-day informational seminar on Children's Health in honor of Governor Napolitano declaring October Children's Environmental Health Month.

SEMINAR GOALS

This seminar will present school administrators and staff, parent organizations and parents, as well as public health officials, with effective tools in creating an environmentally healthy school and healthy children.

Share information, resources, "best practices", and emerging science regarding the protection of children's health from environmental hazards.

Encourage coordination and information sharing across government agencies, health organizations, health care providers, educators, and the general public in addressing children's environmental health issues.

Identify actions that can be implemented throughout the Region to protect children from environmental health threats.

Provide public health professionals with an opportunity to identify and implement effective children's health strategies in advance of Children's Health Month in October.
