Free Biohazardous Medical Waste Workshop Scheduled To be Held in Show Low on Wednesday, Nov. 12

PHOENIX (Oct. 31, 2014) -- Arizona Department of Environmental Quality officials announced today that a free biohazardous medical waste compliance seminar will be held for interested parties in the White Mountains region in Show Low on Wednesday, Nov. 12.

The workshop will be held from 10 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. in the Frontier Conference Room of the Navajo County Public Health Services District, 600 N. 9th Place, and is sponsored by ADEQ's Waste Programs Division Solid Waste Inspection and Compliance staff.

The workshop will offer an overview of biohazardous medical waste rules in Arizona and help attendees understand those rules. In addition, tattoo parlor regulations will be discussed along with recent changes in ADEQ rules and regulations. There also will be a question and answer session with seminar attendees.

"The material from these workshops is important for health-care providers in understanding how to protect the human health and environment of our state," said ADEQ Director Henry Darwin.

Space for the workshop is limited and all those interested in attending should RSVP by 5 p.m. on Nov. 11 with ADEQ's Daniel Salzler at (602) 771-4119 or ds2@azdeq.gov.
