The Arizona Department of Environmental Quality will be holding several workshops that will focus on several air quality topics. The workshops will be divided into two sessions as follows:

1. Air Quality Compliance Workshop. This session will include training for air permitted sources. A portion of the training will allow for a one-on-one with a source inspector or a permit analyst. During the one-on-one the air permitted source can ask questions and get clarification on topics of concern in a non-inspection environment. In addition, ADEQ staff will make presentations on the following: Top 10 Violations cited; what inspectors see during inspections; why do inspectors ask about asbestos; non-road engine requirements; recent changes to the Performance Test Program; move notices and general permits through myDEQ (starting in the summer of 2016); and an industry representative demonstration of the digital opacity camera system (DOCSII).
2. Point Source Reporting Workshop. This session will cover reporting requirements for both major and minor sources. Specific tools covered include the State and Local Emission Inventory System (SLEIS) and ADEQ's Excel files for emission reporting.

You don't need to attend every session...simply attend those that interest you the most.

Space is limited so please RSVP with the area contact if you plan on attending one of the following workshops.

Be aware that the start and end times for each session presented below are tentative and subject to change. Be sure to check the website prior to the scheduled date for any last minute changes.
