ADEQ – Recycling

ADEQ's recycling program, which began 1991, has facilitated recycling initiatives in every county in Arizona. Currently, the program focuses on hosting environmental roadshows across the state, particularly in rural areas, to educate Arizonans about what they can do to establish or enhance recycling programs to protect and preserve their environment. ADEQ – Brownfields Grant Program

Brownfields are properties with active redevelopment potential hindered by known or perceived environmental contamination. ADEQ's non-competitive brownfields grant program has funded more than 50 projects assisting local governments and nonprofits in completing environmental assessments and cleanups. Currently accepting applications, ADEQ's brownfields grant program conducts projects through Arizona's State Response Grant using funds provided by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. ADOT – Adopt a Highway Volunteer Program

Over the years, the ADOT Adopt a Highway volunteer program has provided a multimillion-dollar labor value to Arizona taxpayers by keeping our highways clean. ADOT's Adopt a Highway volunteer program began in 1988 in Globe. Today there are volunteers in every county of the Grand Canyon State, especially in rural Arizona, where volunteer litter pickup provides big savings in maintenance costs.
